

10th International Seafood Summit – Hong Kong

What: SeaWeb's Seafood Summit is an international event bringing together global representatives from the seafood industry and conservation community for in-depth discussions, presentations and networking around the issue of sustainable seafood. The goal of the Summit is to foster dialogue and partnerships that lead to a seafood marketplace that is environmentally, socially and economically sustainable.

Where: Hong Kong, China

When: 6-8 September 2012

Who: The Seafood Summit is attended by a diverse group of seafood industry professionals including producers, processors, distributors, buyers, retailers, chefs and restaurateurs, as well as conservation groups, policy makers, academics and the media.

History: In 2012 the Seafood Summit will celebrate its 10th anniversary. The Summit is held in a different city each year in order to maximize opportunities for all international stakeholders to attend. In 2012, the Summit will be held in Asia for the first time. Bringing the Seafood Summit to Asia is an important step for helping the sustainable seafood movement engage more effectively with the Asian marketplace.
